

Cascadia Water Trail Campsites

Penrose Point State Park The South Sound Area

Enjoy a beautiful paddle rain or shine in Mayo Cove at Penrose Point State Park. This 152 acre park boasts both marine facilities and hiking trails, as well as camp sites, showers, and picnic areas.

Natural History.

Look for large stumps with springboard notches in the park: evidence of early logging activity. The day use area, once a swamp, was filled in to create a meadow. Penrose is named after Dr. Stephen Penrose of Tacoma, president of Whitman College in Walla Walla from 1884 to 1934. Dr. Penrose and his family spent their summers vacationing on what is now park property.
